

Vitreoretinal surgery

The surgical treatment of different vitreous and retinal diseases with microsurgery.

This method of surgery can be used to operate in case of several different diseases, e.g. vitreous bruise, diabetic retinopathy, macular hole, epimacular membrane, retinal detachment, locked lenses, and artificial lenses.