

Haemorrhoid surgery

Haemorrhoids (i.e. anal varicose) appear in case of enlarged blood vessels in the anus, at the end of the rectum, and they are divided into external, which can be seen outside of the anus, and internal, which can be seen after going to the toilet when piles prolapse.