

Early arthritis office

The goal of the early arthritis office is the early diagnosis and commencing of treatment of autoimmune joint inflammations.

Adequate treatment, commenced in the early stage of the disease, is important for achieving a positive treatment effect and preventing the person from becoming disabled. Patients whose arthritis symptoms have been ongoing for fewer than 12 weeks are welcome.