

Category VII eye surgery

Strabismus treatment with a surgery that adjusts the strength of the muscles that move the eyeball.

During the surgery, one or several muscles shall be tensed or loosened, as a result of which strabismus is reduced.